POTENTIAL BREEDERS

I DO NOT SELL TO BROKERS!!!!

As a potential breeder of pure-bred Shih Tzu dogs, you are expected to read, understand, and follow the guidelines of the American Kennel Club (AKC) to strive for responsible and ethical breeding, in the best interest of the Shih Tzu Breed & to screen & educate the families where your puppies will reside.

AKC Registration papers will be mailed separately unless full payment and/or check has been cleared.

If your dog is sold under a limited registration, AKC papers will be mailed after proof of Spay/Neuter is received.

IMPORTANT HEALTH INFORMATION

Umbilical (belly button) hernias are common in the shih tzu and are not considered a health problem as long as the opening is small, with only a fat pad (no intestines) protruding, it will likely close by itself as the puppy matures (usually by 6 months of age). If the umbilical hernia still exists at the time of spay/neuter, then a minor surgical repair to the area will resolve the hernia. As with the slightly pinched nostrils caused by teething or genetics, many veterinarians unfamiliar with the breed are much too quick to recommend surgery. It is recommended that the puppy be allowed to mature before deciding if surgery is needed.

(18 months of age is when the shih tzu is considered full grown/mature.)

Should the shih tzu develop a major communicable disease i.e.; distemper, parvovirus within seven (7) days from the date of pick up from Lunar Eclipse Tzus, then you must notify us immediately and we will provide instructions for refund or replacement of the shih tzu, provided written proof from a licensed veterinarian is present. The cost of a return trip or shipment is not the responsibility of Lunar Eclipse Tzus.

DELIVERY, SHIPPING, & PICKUP

If you are having your shih tzu shipped you are responsible for all shipping charges (i.e.: airfare, insurance on the shih tzu, health certificate, and crate). This usually costs about $250.00. Once the shih tzu is taken to the airport and leaves the ground, Lunar Eclipse Tzus is no longer responsible. Please contact the airline if any problems arise. The purchase price and any other expenses must be paid in full before the shih tzu will be shipped. Professional Pet Nanny – approximate cost $450.00. We don't allow third party people to pick up your shih tzu.
